Wayne Horsburgh, international country music entertainer, performs all summer long, 12 months a year! First is an Aussie touring schedule – December through March – followed by a busy American summer.

An incomparable country music entertainer and noted yodeller, Horsburgh is loved by fans all over Australia, New Zealand, the United States and the United Kingdom. Winner of two ACE (Australian Club Entertainment) awards and five Australian MO awards (the equivalent of the American Grammy), Horsburgh has made his mark, preserving and encouraging traditional country music with recordings such as El Paso City, North Wind and Sioux City Sioux along with the self-penned Alaska, You've Got It All and the touching Australian ballad, September's Sweet Child.

Performing on tv and with his own band at only 11 years of age, Horsburgh proved himself the "People's Entertainer," first in his home Australian state of Victoria, then in the world-class Sydney entertainment clubs, across the great Land of Oz, and finally America and Europe.

A prolific artist, Horsburgh maintains a heavy schedule wherever he goes. Between shows, this People's Entertainer somehow finds time to record and his brand-new album, "Born Free" is now available.

Though based in America's new country music capital, Branson, Missouri, during the States' summer months, Wayne Horsburgh still calls Australia home.
